If someone in your life has died by suicide, a Survivors of Suicide Loss support group can help you cope with your loss.

Meetings are held weekly in Nashville, Franklin, and Murfreesboro, free of charge. Groups are led by professionally trained staff and volunteers of Family & Children's Service.

How Survivors of Suicide Loss can help:

- Group members feel understood and less isolated
- Experienced group members instill hope and guide new members along the path of healing
- The group provides a positive focus, enabling members to regain some control over their lives

In an SOSL group, free expression of grief is acceptable, confidentiality is observed, and compassion and non-judgmental attitudes prevail.

“ AT FIRST, I THOUGHT I WAS LOSING MY MIND. THE SOSL GROUP WAS LIFE-SAVING FOR ME, LITERALLY. ”
